The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) is moving forward with a National Animal Identification System (NAIS). USDA is cooperating with States, Tribes, and industry to create a system that works for us all. Everyone in the industry has a vital role to play. Your State or Tribal animal health authority—meaning your State Veterinarian, Livestock

Commissioner, etc.—can fill you in on where your area stands with bringing the NAIS online. You can also find out from them what you'll need to do to participate and when you'll need to do it. Find out more about the NAIS and how to contact your area expert at <<http://www.usda.gov/nais>>. Or call your State animal health authority.
